DR. MILES' HEART CURE. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, of Jefferson, Wis., than whom none is more highly esteemed or widely known, writes: "In 1900 I had a severe attack of LaGrippe and at the end of four months, in spite of all physicians, friends and good nursing, could do, my lungs heart and nervous system were so completely wrecked, my life was despaired of, my friends giving me up. I could only sleep by the use of opiates. My lungs and heart pained me terribly and my cough was most aggravating. I could not lie in one position but a short time and not on my left side at all. My husband brought me Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure and I began taking them. When I had taken a half bottle of each I was much better and continuing persistently I took about a dozen bottles and was completely restored to health to the surprise of all."

DEWEY'S COMRADES

The Navy's Greeting to the Conquering Hero of Manila.

OLYMPIA MOVES UP BAY

Amid the Thundering of Guns From Forts Wadsworth and Hamilton. Rear Admiral Howison Surprised to Find His Old Classmate in New York Harbor.

New York, Sept. 28.—Through frolicking whitecaps the Olympia moved majestically up the lower bay and passed through the strait yesterday, guarded by Forts Wadsworth and Hamilton, amid the booming of great guns, and there, inside the city gates, Admiral Dewey and his gallant tars received the glorious, thunderous welcome of the steel walled men-of-war as their stately ship glided up to her position at the head of the column, there to remain until the great naval pageant starts tomorrow. Never, perhaps, did a triumphant warrior returning from a victorious campaign receive a more impressive welcome. Although thousands upon thousands witnessed it from shore, balcony, window or housetop, and the man-of-war anchorage at Tompkins-ville, where the fleet lay fairly swarmed with tugs, yachts and steamers and every sort of harbor craft, all jet black with white, cheering, exulting people and towering white walls of the city beyond were brave with 1,000,000 welcoming flags.

This greeting to Dewey was the greeting of his comrades of the navy. And it was eminently fitting that his comrades in arms should have the first chance at him whom the millions are waiting to honor. The people will begin to get at him tomorrow and Saturday. To outward appearances the welcome he received from the fleet was strictly professional. One can find the salutes, the trumpet flourishes, the drum ruffles, the parading of the marine guard and all the rest of the ceremonies done in his honor, described in the naval regulations as due to one of his rank. But that only impressed the mind the more, because even naval regulations, rigorous and inelastic as they are, could not restrain the pent up enthusiasm when it broke forth, as it did occasionally, in rounds of cheers, any more than it could the bell cords of the skippers and the joy-mad people aboard the excursion boats. Cheering is not permitted by the naval regulations aboard men-of-war, but no reproval followed yesterday's breaches of discipline.

Howison Surprised. Before Dewey left his anchorage inside Sandy Hook, Rear Admiral Howison, commander of the South Atlantic squadron, aboard his flagship, the Chicago, travel-stained and weather-beaten after her journey of 21,000 miles around South Africa, foamed in past the hook, expecting to join the North Atlantic squadron in receiving Dewey upon his arrival. As Howison rounded the spit, there, right under his eye, lay the Olympia. The surprise on the face of every man aboard the Chicago could be discerned without the aid of glasses. But surprise is not an emotion men in the navy indulge in long, and Dewey's flagship was no sooner recognized than preparations were made to give her the loudest and most hearty welcome ship could give. The sides were manned, the marine guard was paraded and 17 roaring guns were loosed in honor of Dewey. The Chicago jockies cheered wildly as she steamed past. The Olympia responded with 18 guns, and the two admirals, come together from the two ends of the earth, waved a welcome to each other from the bridges of their respective vessels.

Micantime the beautiful white yacht Dolphin with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen aboard had hurried down to the Olympia. The Dolphin flew a white flag containing four stars with a fouled anchor in the field, the flag of the assistant secretary, and Mr. Allen personally was conveying to Admiral Dewey the greetings and compliments of President McKinley. He went aboard in a launch and was received at the gangway by the admiral himself. The marine guard at present arms was mustered off and as Mr. Allen came over the side deck, ruffles and bugle flourishes sounded in his honor. An officer from Fort Hancock shortly afterward came aboard to convey the formal welcome of the army, and then the Olympia weighed anchor and began her journey up the bay.

Forts Wadsworth and Hamilton. The grassy heights of both Wadsworth and Hamilton were thronged with spectators as she approached the narrow strait. Suddenly a tongue of red flame leaped from the granite side of Fort Wadsworth, and like the recoil came a streak of fire from the granite wall on the opposite side. Then alternately from each side came the deafening roar of an admiral's salute of 17 guns.

Slowly and majestically the Olympia passed the smoke-wreathed forts, answering the salute gun for gun, until she became so enveloped in her own smoke that it seemed she might have broken her steamchest. Then she pushed through the smoke curtain and stood revealed before the admiring gaze of the whole Atlantic squadron, waiting at anchor off Tompkinsville to receive her.

As the Olympia approached from the New York barked the signal gun, a six pounder in the starboard bow, and immediately every ship in the squadron belched forth flame and smoke.

As the Olympia swept by the last ship in the column the full marine band aboard the Olympia played Sousa's "El Capitán" march and the spectators on the excursion fleet cheered. The skippers turned loose their whistles and sirens. Everything that could make a noise in the harbor joined. In a few minutes the sharp rattle of the anchor chain was heard as the Olympia's anchor catted from its bed into the water.

Then came the admirals and captains from all the ships, trooping in their swift water carriages to pay their respects to the nation's hero. First Rear Admiral Howison with his aides, splendid in gold braids, arrived. Admiral Dewey was still in fatigue uniform when he received his old classmate at the gangway. There was a cordial smile and a hearty handshake, with a "How are you, Howison?" that thrilled the spectators.

Meantime scores of rowboats, tugs, launches and yachts formed about the Olympia, many with relatives or sweethearts or relatives of friends aboard. Almost the first to make the gangway was the Narkeeta, with Admiral Dewey's relatives. The party was given a warm greeting and taken to the cabin.

One officer was so overjoyed at the sight of the wife he had not seen for 23 months that he rushed down the gangway and kissed her in the presence of 10,000 people. Some of the visitors had flowers for the admiral and more good things for the crew. One man presented the crew with a rowboat of water melons. As soon as Admiral Dewey could detach himself from those who were so eager to see him he returned the official visits which the etiquette of the occasion required, the first call being upon Rear Admiral Sampson and then upon Rear Admiral Howison.

Upon the return of the launch to the Olympia the jackstaff from which his flag fluttered was taken down by Admiral Dewey's orders, and these formal ceremonies were thus committed, another proof of the admiral's innate modesty.

GENERAL FUNSTON Predicts the War in the Philippines Will Be Over by Spring. Fort Scott, Kan., Sept. 28.—General Frederick Funston, formerly colonel of the Twentieth Kansas volunteers and now en route home from Manila, in a letter received by a friend here, predicts that the war in the Philippines will have been ended by spring. General Funston says: "I would really like to see the war through to the finish—not for the position I hold, but because my fighting blood is up. I am confident that by spring it will be over. The indications are that a very aggressive campaign will be inaugurated this fall, and they will have what they lacked before, 8,000 cavalry, absolutely indispensable in a guerrilla war. Lord, would not I like to command a cavalry brigade. I have not for a minute had any qualms as to the justice of this war. We are right and they are wrong."

"I hope that when they are conquered they will be made to feel for many years the iron hand of military rule, the only kind for which they are suited. I think the islands a most valuable acquisition. Their natural resources are almost beyond computation. From a strictly money standpoint, they are great."

BRAKEMAN INSTANTLY KILLED. Knox, Ind., Sept. 28.—Edward Ames, a brakeman, making his second run on the "Three I" railway, was instantly killed in the yards here. He was about 28 years old and was formerly a switchman at Indianapolis.

Fort Wayne, Sept. 28.—The Fort Wayne Consolidated street railway lines and Robinson park were offered at receiver's sale yesterday afternoon and bid in at $1,092,000 by General George A. Garretson, the Cleveland banker, who is at the head of a syndicate holding bonds and claims against the company to the amount of $3,000,000. General Garretson was the only bidder and his offer was in excess of appraised value of property which is $564,000.

The Cleveland syndicate will reorganize the company at once and include Frank DeHass Robinson, former owner of a majority of the stock. The gross earnings of the property amount to $180,000 a year.

POWDER EXPLODES

In a Burning Building and a Number of Persons Are Injured.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 28.—Fire damaged Cline Bros. bicycle and stove store yesterday to the amount of $6,000, and James Douglas' implement store and stock $5,000. The fire was discovered in the workroom of Cline Bros., and soon communicated to three other rooms and then to the Douglas building in the rear. It is thought to have originated from a portable furnace. While a crowd was gathered about the front door, a can, filled with powder, exploded, shattering the plateglass into fragments and injuring six people. Charles Shaff, Frank Hall and James Ferguson were cut about the hands. George Mabrey's nose was almost sliced off. Julius Lenneman, county clerk-elect, was badly gashed on the right side of his head, and James Coughlin's head was cut half off, the gash extending from the base of the skull to the windpipe, exposing the vertebrae and the principal veins and arteries. He may die.

THREE BOYS CREMATED

Burned to Death in a Farmhouse Near Princeton.

Princeton, Ind., Sept. 28.—John Wild, 8-year-old son of Michael Wild, and James and Henry Wild, 14 and 16 years old respectively, orphan nephews of Michael Wild, were burned to death in a farmhouse, five miles east of here. The boys were sleeping upstairs and Mr. and Mrs. Wild in the lower portion of the house. The latter were awakened by smoke and had barely time to escape through a window, when a large brick chimney fell across their bed. The residence and contents were totally destroyed. The charred remains of the boys were later found in the ruins.

CARRIAGE TRUST

Manufacturers of Bodies Meeting at Indianapolis to Organize.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Twenty manufacturers of carriage bodies are meeting at the Spencer House in this city for the purpose of forming a trust. They represent manufacturers in western states. Miller of Bellefontaine, O., who travels for the Frantz Manufacturing company of Akron, O.

Attempted Wife Murder.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 28.—Charles Lammerts, a teamster, tried to murder his wife, and his bloody work may yet have that result. She had left him because of ill-treatment. He called at the place where she was employed and tried to get her to return to him, and when she refused he struck her with a rock. It is thought her skull is fractured.

Texas Rangers' Flag.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Governor Mount and his staff and representatives of the Indiana G. A. R. will leave next Monday for Dallas. They will take with them the flag of Terry's Texas Rangers, which is to be returned to the survivors of the troop from which it was taken by the Seventeenth Indiana regiment of Wilder's brigade.

COUNTERFEIT COIN

Farmer's Plow Turns Up a Number of Spurious Dollars. Laporte, Ind., Sept. 28.—Mathias Boehlein, living near here, has from time to time been turning up counterfeit dollars while plowing his land. Boehlein's land is covered partially with scrub oak and brush, and the counterfeit money is found as the land is cleared. The dollars bear the date of 1849 and their finding reveals the fact that counterfeiters operated in that vicinity in the early days of the county's history. The coins have the appearance of burial for many years.

Bob Makes a Demand on the Sheriff For a Negro Murderer. Texarkana, Ark., Sept. 28.—A mob last night made a demand on Sheriff Beckham for Tom Sanders (colored), who last Friday shot and killed Henry Wheeler, a planter on Red river, and the latter's little daughter. The sheriff refused to surrender the prisoner and hurried him out of town, but he probably will be lynched.

Horribly Burned.

Indianapolis, Sept. 28.—Harry A. Henshaw while assisting in repairing steamships in the postoffice last evening, was perhaps fatally burned by the explosion of a hand torch. Henshaw was covered with fluid from the torch, which took fire burning his hands, face, hair and clothing. His hair was completely burned off while his face and hands were charred. Physicians say he may not recover.

Great Shortage of Cars.

Kansas City, Sept. 28.—There is a car famine at the stockyards, a shortage of nearly 800 cars being reported. The unprecedented heavy movement of cattle would probably be far greater if the railroads could meet the demand for cars. Every available car is in use and still there are not enough.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 28, 1899.

THIS is a big day in Seymour. The streets have been densely packed all day. The crowd is too large to estimate.

TRAVELING men in the city who have been down at Washington say that our fair is far superior to the Washington fair.

THE people continue to shout wildly for Dewey, but the hero of Manila is not the least disturbed. He had heard noises before.

THE flower parade at Jeffersonville at some time during the Southern Indiana Editorial meeting will be magnificent, judging from the preparations being made. Jeffersonville is taking very great interest in the approaching meeting of newspaper men in that city.

THE Indianapolis News has deserted Tom Taggart and come out for Book-walter for Mayor of Indianapolis. The change is a mark of wisdom though it comes a little late. The News points out some conclusive evidences of Taggart's unfaithfulness to the people and might have pointed out some more. Taggart is on the run right now and will come out behind in the race.

THE Salem Democrat has come out for W. W. Stevens, of Orange county, for congress to succeed W. T. Zenor, the present incumbent. It says it has nothing to say against Judge Zenor, that he has made a fairly good congressman, but that he has done nothing to entitle him to a third term. It says that there are hundreds of men in the district who have rendered longer and better service than Judge Zenor.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statement of Seymour Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Seymour. It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Seymour citizen speaks here. A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof.

Mr. Samuel Buhner, of St. Louis Ave., Tobaccoist, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble which had caused me much annoyance and suffering. I had lameness in my back especially acute when I brought any strain on the muscles of my loins and there was also a bladder difficulty. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills sold by C. W. Milhous, druggist, I procured a box, and almost at once obtained positive relief. I had previously tried many other remedies but never found any thing to equal Doan's Kidney Pills. I can strongly recommend them to others." Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Must Attend School.

A number of parents having children of school age have inquired as to the length of time children are to be in school. The requirements are set out in the following paragraph: The new truant law requires all children between the ages of six and fourteen inclusive, who have not finished the common school course and who are physically and mentally able, to attend the entire term. However, if a child either thirteen or fourteen years of age, is actively and regularly employed for his own support or the support of those dependent upon him, he shall not be required to attend school for a longer period than twelve weeks consecutively.

POISONED WEAPONS.

HOW SAVAGE NATIONS MAKE SURE OF DEALING DEATH.

Some of the Venomous Mixtures Used by the Barbarians Retain Their Life Destroying Properties For an Indefinite Time.

From the age of stone up to the time when the art of killing one's neighbor led to the discovery of powder and firearms primitive peoples, owing to the insufficiency of their weapons to cause prompt death, have invented means of giving them poisonous qualities. Poisoned weapons, whether they are arrows, knives, lances or what not, may get their fatal properties from either vegetable or animal poisons.

The South American Indians use curare; the natives of India, Indo-China, Borneo and the Moluccas employ, or rather did employ, the upas to poison their weapons; the negroes of the Sudan and the Kongo still make use of a poison extracted from different varieties of strophanthus called m'boum or ine, according to the regions where it is employed; the people of South Africa, the Hottentots, the Bushmen, the Kaffirs and the Akkas, poison their arrows with the venom of divers serpents, the cobra de capello among others; certain tribes of equatorial Africa, the N'Dris and the Banjiris, use their arrows after long burial in decomposing corpses, to communicate blood poisoning, which results in speedy death; in Oceania the natives of New Caledonia, the Hebrides and the Solomon group give their enemies lockjaw by soaking their arrows in marshes containing large quantities of the bacillus of tetanus.

The first three kinds of poison are practically of vegetable origin, though the local medicine men mix with their preparations red ants, snakes' venom, toads' eyes, etc. They are the characteristic alkaloids of plants, which serve as the basis of a deadly poisonous mixture. Curare, upas and m'boum have as their principal elements plants whose species vary with the tribe, and which all belong to the strychnine family. The three last named poisons, except that of the South African negroes, are of microbial origin.

What are the value, duration and activity of these poisons? Curare keeps indefinitely. In 1737 in the course of experiments in physiology made in France with curarized arrows brought in 1732 from equatorial America by La Condamine, a fowl scratched with one of these arrows died in seven minutes. Among the Onitoto Indians, lumps of curare handed down from father to son have preserved all their poisonous activity, although covered with mold. The same may be said for the upas, which kept in little sections of bamboo for seven or eight years, retains the same active qualities as when freshly prepared. Malay weapons, even those of steel, always keep their poisonous properties.

The black races that use ine claim that it will keep only a short time before it spoils. Now, ine, which is an aqueous maceration of strophanthus seeds, to which is added the juice of a fig or of a euphorbia, and generally also vipers' venom, becomes covered with mold at the end of a few weeks, but notwithstanding it has preserved all its toxic properties. Guinea pigs have been killed in a few minutes by being scratched with arrows whose points had molded. In fact, the vegetable poisons used by primitive peoples for their arrows keep indefinitely and always make effective weapons.

This is not the case with poisons of animal or microbial origin. As we have seen above, the Bushmen, the Kaffirs and the Akkas poison the points of their arrows with serpent venom, especially that of the cobra. At the end of two or three weeks their arms have lost all harmful quality. This is due to a single cause. The venom of snakes, which is preserved indefinitely in alcohol, becomes covered in air with a peculiar mold, which has not been studied hitherto and which removes all poisonous effect from the venom.

The poison used on the arrows of the N'Dris of the Upper Ubanghi is nothing else than the septic vibrio (microbe of blood poisoning), which dies in the air if it is not in the presence of decomposition. Thus those arrows are harmful only during a very short time. As for the arrows of the New Caledonians, which infect their victim with tetanus, authorities do not agree about the duration of their harmful action, although it is proved that the bacillus of Nicolaier cannot live except in a very moist medium and together with other bacilli, harmless or otherwise, such as the septic bacillus, which, as we have seen, dies in a short time.

Thus in all cases the poisoned arrows of the races that make use of vegetable alkaloids are much more to be feared than those of the tribes that employ poisons of animal or microbial origin.

A "Sure Thing" Bet.

Those who are unfortunates enough to bet on a sure thing might try this: A bet that B cannot endure a piece of ice on his arm for two minutes. A to select a place between the fingers and the elbow. B bares his arm, and A puts a lump of ice on the pulse in the wrist. In 41 seconds usually the pain becomes so great that B gives it up. This catch originated on the London Stock Exchange. It is said that Guy Kiekalls, the carman, is the only one who ever endured the pain two minutes.

A GREAT CROWD

ATTENDING THE STREET FAIR TODAY.

Every Morning Train Heavily Loaded.—Many Strangers Here From a Distance and All Speak Well of the Fair.—Rain This Afternoon.

This is the biggest day of the fair so far. The crowds began coming early and have continued to come all day. Every train in this forenoon was loaded to the platforms and unless the rain interferes too much the evening trains will be just as heavy. The attendance from the surrounding country is very large indeed, as is evidenced by the buggies and wagons at the livery stables and on the streets. It is a great crowd and no mistake. There are many strangers in the city who have visited other street fairs and all unite in saying that Seymour's fair is the best they have seen. Col. O. P. McCarty, general passenger agent of the B. & O. S-W., and his staff of assistants came in last evening in a special car and expressed themselves as delighted with what they saw. They were taken in charge by the street fair committee.

COMPARISON OF FIGURES.

Showing the Cost of Building Association Loans and Ordinary Loans.

A comparison of the cost of a loan of $1,000 on ordinary note and of the same amount borrowed through the Co-operative building and loan association is both interesting and instructive showing in each case the amount paid back by the borrower. The following are the figures:

ORDINARY NOTE LOAN.
Principal.....	$1,000 00
Interest 6 per cent 6 years.....	360 00
Total.....	$1,360 00
BUILDING ASSOCIATION LOAN.
Initiation fee, 10 shares.....	2 50
Premium 6 per cent payable only once.....	60 00
Interest 6 per cent 6 years.....	360 00
Dues $2.50 per week 6 years.....	780 00
Total.....	$1,202 50

Balance in favor of association.....$ 157 50

In this comparison it is estimated that six years will be required for the building association stock to mature. As a matter of fact all the stock thus far has matured in five years and eleven months. This gives the association still further advantage as one month's dues less would be paid. Besides the payments in the building association are made in small amounts every week and are much easier to meet than the large amount in one lump sum. Series R in the Co-operative building and loan association opens Monday October 2, when stock may be taken either for investment or loan. For full particulars see W. F. PETER, Sec'y.

Telephone No. 42

THURSDAY, SEPT. 28, 1899.

This is a big day in Seymour. The streets have been densely packed all day. The crowd is too large to estimate.

TRAVELING men in the city who have been down at Washington say that our fair is far superior to the Washington fair.

THE people continue to shout wildly for Dewey, but the hero of Manila is not the least disturbed. He had heard noises before.

THE flower parade at Jeffersonville at some time during the Southern Indiana Editorial meeting will be magnificent, judging from the preparations being made. Jeffersonville is taking very great interest in the approaching meeting of newspaper men in that city.

THE Indianapolis News has deserted Tom Taggart and come out for Bookwalter for Mayor of Indianapolis. The change is a mark of wisdom though it comes a little late. The News points out some conclusive evidences of Taggart's unfaithfulness to the people and might have pointed out some more. Taggart is on the run right now and will come out behind in the race.

THE Salem Democrat has come out for W. W. Stevens, of Orange county, for congress to succeed W. T. Zenor, the present incumbent. It says it has nothing to say against Judge Zenor, that he has made a fairly good congressman, but that he has done nothing to entitle him to a third term. It says that there are hundreds of men in the district who have rendered longer and better service than Judge Zenor.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statement of Seymour Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Seymour.

It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Seymour citizen speaks here, Speaks for the welfare of Seymour. A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful.

Home proof is the best proof.

Mr. Samuel Buhner, of St. Louis Ave., Tobaccoist, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble which had caused me much annoyance and suffering. I had lameness in my back especially acute when I brought any strain on the muscles of my loins and there was also a bladder difficulty. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills sold by C. W. Milhous, druggist, I procured a box, and almost at once obtained positive relief. I had previously tried many other remedies but never found any thing to equal Doan's Kidney Pills. I can strongly recommend them to others."

Must Attend School.

A number of parents having children of school age have inquired as to the length of time children are to be in school. The requirements are set out in the following paragraph: The new truancy law requires all children between the ages of six and fourteen inclusive, who have not finished the common school course and who are physically and mentally able, to attend the entire term. However, if a child either thirteen or fourteen years of age, is actively and regularly employed for his own support or the support of those dependent upon him, he shall not be required to attend school for a longer period than twelve weeks consecutively.

POISONED WEAPONS.

HOW SAVAGE NATIONS MAKE SURE OF DEALING DEATH.

Some of the Venomous Mixtures Used by the Barbarians Retain Their Life Destroying Properties For an Indefinite Time.

From the age of stone up to the time when the art of killing one's neighbor led to the discovery of powder and firearms primitive peoples, owing to the insufficiency of their weapons to cause prompt death, have invented means of giving them poisonous qualities. Poisoned weapons, whether they are arrows, knives, lances or what not, may get their fatal properties from either vegetable or animal poisons.

The South American Indians use curare; the natives of India, Indochina, Borneo and the Moluccas employ, or rather did employ, the upas to poison their weapons; the negroes of the Sudan and the Kongo still make use of a poison extracted from different varieties of strophanthus called m'boumon or ine, according to the regions where it is employed; the people of South Africa, the Hottentots, the Bushmen, the Kaffirs and the Akkas, poison their arrows with the venom of divers serpents; the cobra de capello among others; certain tribes of equatorial Africa, the N'Dris and the Banjiris, use their arrows after long burial in decomposing corpses, to communicate blood poisoning, which results in speedy death; in Oceania the natives of New Caledonia, the Hebrides and the Solomon group give their enemies lockjaw by soaking their arrows in marshes containing large quantities of the bacillus of tetanus.

The first three kinds of poison are practically of vegetable origin, though the local medicine men mix with their preparations red ants, snakes' venom, toads' eyes, etc. They are the characteristic alkaloids of plants, which serve as the basis of a deadly poisonous mixture. Curare, upas and m'boumon have as their principal elements plants whose species vary with the tribe, and which all belong to the strychnine family. The three last named poisons, except that of the South African negroes, are of microbial origin.

What are the value, duration and activity of these poisons? Curare keeps indefinitely. In 1737 in the course of experiments in physiology made in France with envenomed arrows brought in 1733 from equatorial America by La Condamine, a fowl scratched with one of these arrows died in seven minutes. Among the Oniteto Indians, lumps of curare handed down from father to son have preserved all their poisonous activity, although covered with mold. The same may be said for the upas, which, kept in little sections of bamboo for seven or eight years, retains the same active qualities as when freshly prepared. Malay weapons, even those of steel, always keep their poisonous properties.

The black races that use ine claim that it will keep only a short time before it spoils. Now, ine, which is an aqueous maceration of strophanthus seeds, to which is added the juice of a fig or of a euphorbi, and generally also vipers' venom, becomes covered with mold at the end of a few weeks, but notwithstanding it has preserved all its toxic properties. Guinea pigs have been killed in a few minutes by being scratched with arrows whose points had molded. In fact, the vegetable poisons used by primitive peoples for their arrows keep indefinitely and always make effective weapons.

This is not the case with poisons of animal or microbial origin. As we have seen above, the Bushmen, the Kaffirs and the Akkas poison the points of their arrows with serpent venom, especially that of the cobra. At the end of two or three weeks their arms have lost all harmful quality. This is due to a single cause. The venom of snakes, which is preserved indefinitely in alcohol, becomes covered in air with a peculiar mold, which has not been studied hitherto and which removes all poisonous effect from the venom.

The poison used on the arrows of the N'Dris of the Upper Ubanghi is nothing else than the septic vibrio (microbe of blood poisoning), which dies in the air if it is not in the presence of decomposition. Thus those arrows are harmful only during a very short time. As for the arrows of the New Caledonians, which infect their victim with tetanus, authorities do not agree about the duration of their harmful action, although it is proved that the bacillus of Nicolaier cannot live except in a very moist medium and together with other bacilli, harmless or otherwise, such as the septic bacillus, which, as we have seen, dies in a short time.

Thus in all cases the poisoned arrows of the races that make use of vegetable alkaloids are much more to be feared than those of the tribes that employ poisons of animal or microbial origin.

A "Sure Thing" Bet.

Those who are unfortunatemanlike enough to bet on a sure thing might try this: A bet that B cannot endure a piece of ice on his arm for two minutes. A to select a place between the fingers and the elbow. B bares his arm, and A puts a lump of ice on the pulse in the wrist. In 41 seconds usually the pain becomes so great that B gives it up. This catch originated on the London Stock Exchange. It is said that Guy Kiekalls, the oarsman, is the only one who ever endured the pain two minutes.

A GREAT CROWD

ATTENDING THE STREET FAIR TODAY.

This is the biggest day of the fair so far. The crowds began coming early and have continued to come all day. Every train in this forenoon was loaded to the platforms and unless the rain interferes too much the evening trains will be just as heavy. The attendance from the surrounding country is very large indeed, as is evidenced by the buggies and wagons at the livery stables and on the streets. It is a great crowd and no mistake.

There are many strangers in the city who have visited other street fairs and all unite in saying that Seymour's fair is the best they have seen. Col. O. P. McCarty, general passenger agent of the B. & O. S-W., and his staff of assistants came in last evening in a special car and expressed themselves as delighted with what they saw. They were taken in charge by the street fair committee.

COMPARISON OF FIGURES.

Showing the Cost of Building Association Loans and Ordinary Loans.

A comparison of the cost of a loan of $1,000 on ordinary note and of the same amount borrowed through the Co-operative building and loan association is both interesting and instructive showing in each case the amount paid back by the borrower. The following are the figures:

ORDINARY NOTE LOAN.
Principal.....	$1,000 00
Interest 6 per cent 6 years.....	360 00
Total.....	$1,360 00
BUILDING ASSOCIATION LOAN.
Initiation fee, 10 shares.....	2 50
Premium 6 per cent payable only once.....	60 00
Interest 6 per cent 6 years.....	360 00
Dues $2.50 per week 6 years.....	780 00
Total.....	$1,202 50

Balance in favor of association.....$ 157 50

In this comparison it is estimated that six years will be required for the building association stock to mature. As a matter of fact all the stock thus far has matured in five years and eleven months. This gives the association still further advantage as one month's dues less would be paid. Besides the payments in the building association are made in small amounts every week and are much easier to meet than the large amount in one lump sum. Series R in the Co-operative building and loan association opens Monday October 2, when stock may be taken either for investment or loan. For full particulars see W. F. PETER, Sec'y.

Ordinance No. 513.

AN ORDINANCE MAKING A HARDWARE FENCE INSIDE THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF SEYMOUR, A NUISANCE AND PRESCRIBING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION OF THE SAME.
